

FREE WRITING..

Homework is supposed to help students retain information they have learnt during classroom hours . Write an article discussing the necessity of having homework , possible ways for making homework more helpful and examples of homework you like to do.

THE IMPORTANCE OF HOMEWORK

Homework is supposed to help students retain information they have learnt during classroom hours. In this article I am going to discuss the necessity of having homework , possible ways for making homework more helpful and examples of homework you like to do and I will reflect my opinion about this subject .

First of all , there are many needs of having homework such as , revising the classes you have learnt in the school more efficiently and improving your memory in several different ways . In addition to , preparing students for next classes also improving the student`s skills .

Secondly , there are many possible ways for making homework more helpful like , you can do it in groups to exchange and share information between students also you can use internet to provide your homework with more information in an interesting way . As well as , schools should give the creative students rewards ( gifts ) to encourage them .

Thirdly, there are many examples of homework I like to do such as , mathematics , science experiments , drawing and painting .

Finally , In my point of view by homework the students will be more productive in their schools and creates more independent students .

T.Mohammad Mishal